

The Kids 4 Kids Campaign

Sending in the Kids 4 Kids artwork or writing

At the end of lesson 3, children will be invited to create a piece of artwork or writing as a way of speaking out for justice. The topic is:

'What I Want for the Children of the World'

There are three ways in which Kids 4 Kids artwork or writing may be published.

- All pieces of work received will be put into a huge scrapbook and presented to a representative of the Australian government on international children's day in October 2004. This is a way of showing the Australian government that the kids of Australia care about the situation of children in poorer countries. (For this reason, work cannot be returned.)
- Most of the pieces of work received will be put up on the Kids 4 Kids website, for a limited period of time. Placement will depend on the number of pieces received at various times. Children's work published on the website will be listed according to the child's first name and age. This is for child protection reasons.
- Some selected items will be compiled into a book, published and sold through TEAR Australia.

So, to help us do all this effectively, you will need to:

- Have the children do their work on reasonable quality A4 sized paper, in landscape format – that is, wide, not tall.
- Attach a Kids 4 Kids submission slip securely attached to any work sent in.
- Make sure that the slip is correctly filled in. Ensure that a parent or guardian has signed the slip, indicating that they understand what the work will be used for.

TEAR Australia will inform children whose work is selected for publication in the book (the third option above), through the contact person listed on the submission slip.

All work should be sent to: Kids 4 Kids Campaign, TEAR Australia PO Box 164 Blackburn, VIC 3130.
